Dear Children,

Extreme Reading Challenge

Over the half term and leading up to World Book Day, your challenge is to find a fun and exciting place to read a book! It could be anywhere - in an unusual place in your house, at the park, on the beach, up a mountain, in a supermarket - the choice is yours! Just remember to be safe wherever you choose.

Get an adult to take a picture and either print it or email it to your teachers via Dojo. We can then share all the wonderfully unique places you have read. There will be a prize for one child per class for the most unusually exciting location!

Good luck, stay safe and happy reading!

The deadline for the photos is 27th February!
